THERE were only two cases of cholera in New York yesterday. The presence of the disease creates no alarm whatever in that city.

BROWNLOW, like the prophet of old, seems to be ready to depart in peace, having fought his last battle, and won his most resplendant victory.

IF ANY MAN desires to win a reputation for the gift of prophecy, by foretelling how the elections in the reconstructed States will come out, a proper study of the late result in Tennessee will help him to it.

THERE is no man of small stature who looms up so grandly as little General Sheridan. May he never grow less. Gen. Grant might well take a lesson from him, and let all the people know where he stands.

THE citizens of St. Louis are delighted over the prospects of having better water supplied them in the future. Ground has been broken for a large new reservoir into which the Mississippi water is to be forced and filtered and purified before it is sent coursing through the pipes of the city.

THE Conservatives seem to have felt, by anticipation, the result of the Tennessee election in their bones. It came to their imaginations, in advance, and tormented them before the time. That was what was the matter with them. A Governor by thirty thousand majority, and he Brownlow; an entire Congressional delegation of the radical type; a Legislature certain to put a Republican in the United States Senate in place of Mr. Patterson, the President's son-in-law; is enough to make the Conservatives think the day of wrath has come.

THE election of Kossuth to the Hungarian Diet, by a unanimous vote, is a gleam of sunshine upon the gloom of his later years. Since the Proclamation of Amnesty no reason has existed why he should remain an exile from his native land, which he adorned; and, under existing circumstances, he makes no sacrifice of principles in again entering the public service. During the eighteen years of his banishment a new generation have sprung up, and he may fail to wield the influence, and attract the applause that signalized his former career. This is the fate of men in his condition.

THE Republican State Convention of Virginia adjourned sine die yesterday, transacting no business. A mass meeting was held after the adjournment, at which a new platform of principles was offered by J. Minor Botts, but it met with such violent opposition as to compel its immediate withdrawal. Resolutions were introduced which indirectly promised General Sheridan the support of the Virginia Republican party for the Presidential nomination, in acknowledgement of his course in carrying out the provisions of the Reconstruction acts. The ranks of the party in Virginia are solid and undivided, the petty dissensions ceasing with the adjournment of the two wings of the one and same body.

THE FENIANS are a mysterious body of men, and are led by mysterious individuals. The stock in trade of Head Centre Stephens was a vast amount of mystery. He befogged his followers and the world at large successfully, till another equally dark individual superceded him as leader. The latter, President Roberts, seems to have improved on his predecessor's tactics, and after a mysterious visit to Europe comes home with a rainbow of promise to gladden the patriotic hearts of his countrymen. He has secured the co-operation of certain European powers in the struggle for Irish independence, "in the event of certain contingencies." Verily, the green flag may yet wave in triumph, but we think the majority of Fenians, hereabouts at least, cannot imagine what Garibaldi and Mazzini may deem a certain contingency to warrant co-operation with Fenianism in behalf of old Ireland. There is too much mystery in the last giving out from the F. B. Headquarters. It needs explanation, just as much as did O'Mahoney's theory that Brussels carpets and champaigne suppers in New York, out of the common fund, helped on the independence of Erin.

THE Clarion Banner, in viewing the political situation in Allegheny county, takes occasion to pay a passing compliment to a number of gentlemen eminently worthy of the recognition. It says:

> This gallant Republican county (Allegheny) is preparing for the coming contest. With the candidate for the Supreme Bench chosen from her citizens, an effort will be made to give him such a majority as never a candidate received before. Judge Williams at home is very popular, and this popularity won him the nomination. No other man at this time could have been chosen who will receive so large a vote, and none come before the people with higher honors, or who has been more loudly applauded by the opposition. We need just such a man, and the people fully understanding his fitness, have resolved to elect him by a most decisive and overwhelming vote.
>
> James McAuley, a well known citizen and manufacturer, is spoken of as a candidate for Congress, to fill the place of Hon. J. K. Moorhead, who declines a re-nomination. We are sorry to learn of the declination of General Moorhead, as he has for years faithfully discharged his duties to his country and his constituents, and will carry with him into private life the honors of a faithful statesman and wise legislator.
>
> Russell Errett, Esq., is urged for the position of State Senator, in place of Hon. T. J. Bigham. Mr. Errett is thoroughly identified with the interests of Allegheny county and the State; a clear headed Republican, always in the front ranks where duty requires his services, and ever ready to labor for the establishment of those great vital principles, which, in the hour of the nation's trial, saved it from annihilation. We trust Mr. Errett may secure the nomination, as he eminently deserves it.
> Hon. George Wilson, late Mayor, and recently a representative in the State Legislature, is up again for nomination. In every way he is qualified for the position, and we doubt not will be chosen to once more represent old Allegheny. In whatever place we find him, he is always popular and wins the confidence and esteem of his constituents.

—Among the papers of the late Rev. John Pierpont was found a half sheet neatly filed and endorsed, and addressed in the neat handwriting of Charles Sprague, then cashier of the Globe Bank inclosing a promissory note for $1,500, dated "Boston, 25, August, 1832," signed by Jno. Pierpont, and indorsed by a Boston publisher prominent at that time. On the face of the note is written, "Paid February 28, 1833." Within, also in Mr. Sprague's handwriting, is the following couplet:

"Behold a wonder seldom seen by men,
Lines of no value from John Pierpont's pen."

One can well imagine how much one poet enjoyed writing, and the other reading this witty effusion.

Small Talk.

It is a very common thing to speak with contempt of "small talk," as it is called, especially among young men of education, who are just beginning to think of the more serious affairs of life and philosophy, and who are anxious to converse in the drawing room upon "improving" subjects. Now, small talk is a necessity of social life. It holds as important a place in the easy intercourse of society as oil does in the steam engine. Grant that men and women are social beings, and that the various relations and pleasantries of society are necessary to our happiness, and the value of small talk cannot be denied. Two mere philosophers may sit together for hours, and if the weighty thoughts of either condescend to the uses of their tongues, their conversation, ten to one, will be "weary, stale, and flat," if not, indeed, "unprofitable." Introduce a little small talk—jokes, quips, anecdotes, nonsense—and thought moves easily, conversation becomes recreation; even philosophy finds its place, is actually graceful, and pleases as well as instructs. What is a party or any social gathering without small talk? An unmitigated bore. Not that we would have nothing but small talk, as is too frequently, perhaps, the case in society; but this is the only medium by which those who meet but seldom can become acquainted with each other; and it is the surest way of calling out pleasant thoughts and pithy suggestions upon more serious and important subjects.

We suspect that in most cases of professed contempt for small talk among ambitious young men there is a little mixture of the sour grape element. They lack the energy to overcome the natural tendency of the adolescent human male to relapse into silence at every opportunity suggested by the conclusion of a "subject." The position is an awkward one, and as the only remedy, small talk, is out of reach, contempt for it is a very natural result. The female adolescent, fortunately for the comfort of both sexes, is generally gifted with small talk by nature, and often comes to the assistance of her embarrassed "correlative" in a very fascinating and peculiarly womanly way by doing the talking herself. Here, as everywhere, the kindly and beneficent foresight of Nature commands our unlimited admiration.

But small talk has its degrees like everything else. There is some talk so excessively minute that microscopic examination fails to disclose any sense. A frequent mistake of young men who are gifted with this very essential social convenience is the idea that ladies in society are not constituted to appreciate anything except small talk, and the smallest kind of small talk at that. "My dear sir," said a lady friend of ours to a gentleman, "you talk to us ladies as if we were fools, and you think we want you to do it; I have just overheard you talking very sensibly to another gentleman, and now you turn around to me and begin to talk nonsense." She was fully as frank, perhaps, as she was polite; but what she said was a very excellent hint.

Small talk, too, has its own proper times and places. The public lecture, for instance, is not a proper place; and at the most delicate air in an opera, is hardly a proper time to indulge it. But in its place and time it is pleasing and appropriate; and, for our own part, an hour of small talk with an intelligent woman is decidedly preferable to many other forms of amusement.—New York Evening Gazette.

Brain Work.

Dr. Hall, in one of his health tracts, has the following to say on brain work:

Hard study, does not, of itself, shorten life, but does of itself tend to increase the longevity of man. When hard students die early, it will be found that in some way they had fallen into the habit of violating some of the laws of nature, or began study with some inherited infirmity. The pursuit of truth is pleasurable; it is exhilarating; it is exalting, and promotes serenity. Of all men, natural philosophers average the longest lives. The great, the governing reason is, in addition to the above, that their attention is drawn away from the indulgence of animal appetites; their gratifications are not in that direction, hence they are neither gourmands, drunkards nor licentious. Sir Isaac Newton had often to be reminded that his dinner was ready; the call to eat is often a most unwelcome one to literary men: they consider eating a secondary consideration; they literally eat to live, and the process of dining is often gone through with as a task.

Many hard students have become miserable dyspeptics, and have died while yet in their prime, but the tormenting disease was brought on by over eating, by eating too fast, or by returning to their studies too soon after a hearty or hasty meal, thus drawing to the brain the nervous energy which ought to have been expended on the stomach in aiding it to prepare the food for nourishing the system, and not being so prepared it "lays heavy," feels like a load, or produces other discomforts which increase in intensity and duration until life becomes a burden and a failure. The French Academy is perhaps the most learned body in the world, and the ages of the younger members average from sixty to seventy. Most of the clever men of France have in this year of 1867 reached a great age. Of the members of the French Academy, M. Vinnet is 89; M. de Segur, 86; De Tougerville, 76; Lebran, 82; Villedemain, 76; Lamartine, 76; Flourene, 78; M. Guizot, 79; M. Thiers, 69; Berryer, 74; the Duke de Broglie, 82.

This list might be indefinitely extended as to all nations—Lord Brougham, Humboldt, John Wesley and many others.

The circumstances most favorable to longevity among brain workers is the spending a considerable portion of early life in out-door activities, travel and the like, and then by a temperate and plain mode of living the brain will work advantageously until past four-score years.

Eccentricities of Fashion.

The London Journal says: The costume of the fashionable Londoner just now is a marvel, and it is very difficult for those of us whom the conversion of the Tories to household suffrage has not yet prepared for any change, not to break forth with laughter when we see fair creatures who lately occupied the whole of the pavement when walking singly, now walking six abreast in garments suggestive of Brighton bathing machines rather than the London streets. They have shrunk up almost to a line, which, as mathematicians tell us, has length but no breadth—always excepting the coifures. It is quite possible now for a woman to be in one street and her chignon in the next. For once the eccentricities of female attire are being copied by the men. They, too, have adopted the swathing system; and one seeks nether garments now that are not only inexpressible but inexplicable. How their wearers get into them, and how by any process except bandaging these wonderful appendages are donned is a marvel. As to hats there is a race going on just now between the dandies and our fine ladies, to see which can wear the smallest headdress. Next year we shall be compelled to raise all our doorways in order to admit the steeples that will then be in fashion, for it is ever the custom of fools to rush into extremes.

SOME curious experiments have been made in London before the Royal Institution, by Professor Tyndall, showing the influence of vibrations of sound upon light, water and smoke. A long gas flame, just on the point of becoming sonorous, or roaring, was put in agitation by sounds resembling the chirruping of birds; and Professor Tyndall, having called on his audience to take part in the experiment, they commenced imitating the sound, and the general chirruping was accompanied by violent movements of the flame. A jet of smoke was influenced by sonorous vibrations in a similar manner, a continuous jet of smoke about two feet high, being broken down and divided into two jets by the sound of an organ-pipe. A stream of water was similarly affected, a continuous stream having been broken into drops by the sound of a tuning fork. Several other experiments were exhibited, showing the effect of sonorous vibrations.

—It is noticed as a curious fact by persons who keep boarding houses in New York, that advertisements which appear in Friday morning's paper are never answered. There is evidently a good deal of superstitition afloat in New York.

FIRST EDITION.

MIDNIGHT.

THE VIRGINIA CONVENTION.

Reassembling at Capitol Square.

AN ADJOURNMENT WITHOUT DAY.

Organization of a Mass Meeting.

SPEECH FROM JOHN MINOR BOTTS.

Lively Scene---Riot Apprehended.

RESOLUTIONS CONCERNING THE PRESIDENCY.

Sheridan's Action Endorsed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

RICHMOND, August 2.—The Convention reassembled at ten o'clock. About two thousand persons were present.

Dr. Bayne, of Norfolk, moved that as the work of the Convention was finished, it now adjourn sine die.

Mr. Hunnicutt approved the adjournment and said the reason for adjourning yesterday till to-day was to give Mr. Botts, and others, who had not participated in the proceedings, an opportunity to be heard, and he hoped the Convention was not afraid to hear what they had to say. If there was any political tomahawk between Mr. Botts and the Republican party, it was now buried, and the party will carry the State by thirty thousand majority, and that the ship is large enough to carry all shades of party differences. [Cries of "yes."]

The speaker favored the disfranchising of only those rebels who would talk against Congress and the Republican party, and would not, like Longstreet, work in any harness for reconstruction.

At this point there were loud cries for Botts, who received three cheers by a portion of the crowd, and then followed a scene of confusion.

A colored speaker attempted to address them, but was cried down with shouts of "vote the resolution down!" "vote it up!" "vote Botts Down!"

Mr. Bayne said "he believed the wing of the party represented by Mr. Botts wanted, without mingling in the Convention, to speak under its auspices."

A vote was taken and the Convention adjourned sine die with great cheering.

A mass meeting was then organized, and Mr. Botts, who had maintained his stand, addressed them. He said he was no intruder, but came as a member of the Republican party. It had been circulated that he had written letters denouncing the Northern men in Virginia as squatters. The charge was unfounded. For thirty years he had stood by them, so much so as to render him odious with his own party. With reference to having been unwilling at one time since the war to give the blacks suffrage, he said had only been so because he knew if the negro was given suffrage before he had protection, his vote would strengthen the Democratic party, or be shot down in the streets for attempting to vote with Republicans. He had not attended the Convention of April, because he thought that he could do more good out of it. He endorsed its platform, so did his friends, who had come to the city to attend the present Convention. But he had been crowded out, whether by accident or design he could not say. They would have redoubled the platform. He warned the meeting not to be deceived by demagogues into the belief that they held all the power. The Democrats of Virginia will not resist the Republicans now, but wait till they get back into the Union. We will need every man to fight them. We must not drive any man away from us. [Cries of "No, we won't."] He then read an address to the people and a platform, which he said had not the approval of Judge Underwood and Mr. Hunnicutt.

George Rye, of Shenandoah, moved to endorse the address and platform, but the motion met with such violent opposition that it was withdrawn.

Here a loud voice announced that the speaker who was opposing the endorsement of the address, had stolen a horse from an one armed negro. This created great confusion. The speaker came up the capitol steps to confront the accuser, and a crowd of blacks surged up after him. Everything looked like a riot for some minutes, but the matter was settled by the accuser explaining that he had only heard, and could not vouch for the charge.

Governor Pierpoint made a very brief speech, and was followed by S. H. Chandler, District Attorney, Rev. Mr. Givens, colored, Louis Scott, colored, and others.

The following resolutions were introduced and unanimously adopted:

WHEREAS, The loyal American citizens will be soon required to select representatives as their candidates for the office now held by the chance President of the United States, and as the late war has placed the Republican party, as well as the Union, under obligations to many distinguished Generals, for the services they rendered in the desperate struggle for liberty and greatness; and as the names of Generals Grant, Sheridan, Thomas, Butler, Sickles, Logan, and Schofield, and Hon. Schuyler Colfax, Thaddeus Stevens, and Henry Wilson, are prominently held up as amongst the most deserving in connection with said office, therefore,

Resolved, That we endorse the action of General Sheridan in his efforts to execute the laws of the country, considering the embarrassment thrown around him by the President.

Resolved, That the Republican party look forward to such acts of protection as Gen. Sheridan and other Generals are extending to them, with great hope in the future of the prosperity of the country; and that we, as a party, now give notice that when the proper time arrives to nominate a candidate for President and Vice President, we will give all such acts of protection of the loyal people of the South due consideration.

Speaking continued until nearly dark, when the meeting adjourned.

FROM NEW YORK.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 2, 1867.

CLEARED FOR CHINA.

The steamship New York was cleared today for Hong Kong and Yokohama by the Pacific Mail Company. She is probably intended as an extra ship on the San Francisco and Japan route.

THE HOLY LAND EXCURSIONISTS.

The steamer Quaker City, with the Mediterranean excursion party on board, was at Genoa on the 15th of July. The passengers were all well.

CHOLERA CASES.

One or two additional cases of cholera are reported in the city.

SHAKERS PROMISED PROTECTION.

A dispatch from New Lebanon reports that the Shaker community have been led to open their Sunday service, on the assurance from the townspeople that they will be protected hereafter from disturbances.

HORSE FAIR.

The Fifth National Exhibition of Horses will take place at Springfield, Massachusetts, on the 27th, 28th, 29th and 30th of August. Nine thousand dollars will be distributed in premiums.

RAILROAD DETENTION.

The western mails due this morning by the Erie Railway were detained several hours, owing to the destruction by fire of the Orient Bridge, on the Atlantic and Great Western Railroad, a short distance beyond Salamanca.

REPOSE FOR MAXIMILIAN.

A Requiem Mass, for the repose of the the soul of the late Emperor of Mexico was celebrated at 30th street St. John the Baptist church, last night. The Austrian Consul was among those present.

FENIAN SPECULATIONS.

W. R. Roberts, President of the Fenian Brotherhood, is expected from Paris in a week or ten days. It is said he has secured the co-operation of certain nations on the European Continent in the struggle for Irish independence, in certain not impossible contingencies, and that he had conferences with Bismarck, Mazzini, Garibaldi and Napoleon.

THROWN FROM A CARRIAGE.

Major Thomas F. Seldon, of the Interior Department, was thrown from a carriage near Troy, last evening, and seriously injured.

FROM SOUTH CAROLINA.

Police Removed by General Sickles—A Duel Prevented—Freedmen Returned from Liberia.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHARLESTON, August 2.—General Sickles has removed the police of the town of Sumter, for alleged maltreatment of blacks and inefficiency. He has appointed two colored and one white policemen to succeed the late incumbents.

United States Marshal Epping was arrested last night, on a charge of attempting to fight a duel with C. C. Bowen, owing to an abusive letter about Epping which was published by Bowen. The difficulty grew out of rivalry for the leadership of the Republican organization here.

Several freedmen, who emigrated hence to Liberia last year, have just returned, bringing very discouraging accounts. Letters from those who remained are to the same purport, and they advise southern freedmen against emigration.

International Boat Race.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BOSTON, August 2.—The preliminaries of the rowing match between the Ward Brothers and the St. John crew, fix the 11th of September as the time; the distance to be six miles on the Connecticut river, at Springfield, and stakes two thousand dollars, one thousand dollars a side.

Expelled from the Board Trade

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BUFFALO, Aug. 2.—At a meeting of the Board of Trade this morning, a resolution was adopted requesting the Trustees to expel F. W. Patterson, who attempted the $80,000 swindle yesterday. A committee was also appointed to mature a more secure system for the delivery of property to buyers.

River Items.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.

LOUISVILLE, August 2.—The river is rising with three feet five inches in the canal.

FROM WASHINGTON.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, August 2, 1867.

THE SURRATT TRIAL.

Mr. Bradley occupied the entire session of the Court to-day in an argument for Surratt. Mr. Pierrepont closes for the Government to-morrow.

PENSION REGULATION.

The widows who have been getting a pension of the half monthly pay of their husbands under the laws passed prior to the act of July 25th, 1865, are not entitled to an increase of eight dollars per month under that act.

SUICIDE APPREHENDED.

The friends of Captain E. F. Ruth, chief clerk of the finance division of the Interior Department, are apprehensive that he drowned himself.

INTERNAL REVENUE.

The receipts of Internal Revenue to-day were $1,802,000.

INTEREST ON COMPOUND NOTES.

The Secretary of the Treasury has decided that payment of compound interest notes, with interest thereon, will be made only at maturity at the Treasury of the United States, and at the offices of the Assistant Treasurers at Boston, New York and Philadelphia.

POSTOFFICE COMPLAINTS.

The Postoffice Department continues to receive complaints from Colorado, Idaho, Utah and Nevada, that the transient newspapers and other printed matter is not delivered by the Overland Mail unless prepaid at letter postage, and as this deprivation of the people of the far West of the full benefit of the Postal System is in accordance with law, they have no remedy but to obtain the repeal of the obnoxious clause by Congress.

CROP STATISTICS.

The statistics of crop returns received at the Agricultural Department, show that the wheat crop of the country promises a yield of six bushels to each inhabitant, or one-half bushel more than the crop of 1859. The returns for July show an improvement in the condition of winter wheat over last year in every State but Texas, Nebraska and Minnesota, the diminution in the latter case being but four per cent. The highest is in Ohio, one hundred and sixty per cent., West Virginia ninety-eight, Georgia ninety-six, Tennessee seventy-two, Indiana fifty-four, Kentucky fifty-three, Michigan thirty-five, Vermont twenty-five, New Jersey twenty-five, and New York seventeen. In spring wheat all the States, except Vermont, New York and Pennsylvania, increase on last year.

The average on corn is unusually large, every State showing a material increase, except Maine, New Hampshire, New York and South Carolina.

The rye crop shows a fine condition and remarkable uniformity of improvements.

Barley promises an increase of fifteen to twenty per cent. in Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Connecticut, New Jersey, West Virginia, Kentucky and Indiana, and forty-four per cent. in Ohio. Most of the other States show some increase.

Oats—full average, except in Maine, Vermont, New York, and Kentucky, where it is slightly less than last year.

Hay—full average yield everywhere, with an increase generally of fifteen to thirty per cent.

Potatoes—average crop, except in New York, Ohio and Indiana.

Fruits promising everywhere.

Sorghum shows a short yield.

Tobacco is short in average and condition.

Cotton about the same as last year, with a slight difference in favor of the present crop.

Wool—not materially larger than last year.

BASE BALL SUPPER.

The Base Ball players gave a complementary supper to the first nine of the National Club, recently returned from the west.

FROM WASHINGTON, PA.

Commencement Exercises of Washington and Jefferson College—List of Graduates—Degrees Conferred.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.

WASHINGTON PA., August 1, 1867.

Yesterday evening a large and appreciative audience was found in the First Presbyterian Church, to hear the Anniversary Address before the Literary Societies, by Rev. Franklin Moore, D. D., of Foxsville, Pa. His theme was the Ideal in the Beautiful, the True and the Good. He discoursed for more than the space of an hour, giving free play to his imagination, and not seeming to approximate an exhaustion of the wealth of his diction.

At the conclusion of this address there was a social re-union of the Alumni and friends of the College. It was held in the Female Seminary, upon the invitation of Mrs. Hanna, the Principal. It was just the right place for it—commodious and in perfect order. The College is indebted to Mrs Hanna for such a thoughtful expression of her kindness. The favor will doubtless be heartily reciprocated whenever an opportunity shall present itself.

We should judge that the number of persons present was not much short of three hundred. All came upon invitation. The smallest, but by far the fairer portion of the happy assemblage, was composed of ladies. It is needless to attempt a full description of the entertainment and enjoyment of the evening. For the "creature comforts" of the occasion, so abundantly provided, and so handsomely and deliciously prepared, the guests are indebted to the resident Alumni, and to a very happily selected committee of ladies. It was indeed a social re-union. All seemed to enter into it heartily. New acquaintances were formed; old ones renewed and strengthened. The days agone were, by many, lived over again; and, by others, the possibilities of the future were discussed. Thus the hours went trippingly by, until the near approach of midnight gave, to the joyous throng, the unwelcome notice, that it was time to disperse.

At half past eight o'clock this morning a procession, headed by a band, marched from the College to the Church. The commencement exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. Scovill, of your city.

For some three hours we were entertained by speeches from members of the graduating class, and two "Master's orations." One of these was delivered by S. J. McCarrell, Esq., of Harrisburg, Pa.; the other by T. H. B. Patterson, Esq., of Pittsburgh, Pa. The honors of the class fell on the following members in the order in which we name them: Rob Roy McG. McNulty, J. R. Wilson, Mervittstown, Pa.; J. V. Cellars, Carrollton, Ohio; D. B. McKnight, Mt. Lebanon, Pa.

The following are the names of the Graduating Class: J. L. Black, W. J. Bollman, David Brown, Bankhead Boyd, J. A. Campbell, J. V. Cellars, W. C. Crawford, S. T. Davis, S. W. Elliott, J. S. Gallagher, D. T. Harvey, J. K. Larimore, Loudy McCarrell, G. N. McConnell, J. M. McDowell, T. W. McGuire, D. K. McKnight, Jr., R. R. McG. McNulty, A. A. Mitchell, H. R. Moore, A. S. Moore, E. H. Moorhead, F. J. Newton, G. E. O'Neall, Fred. Reiber, David H. Riddle, J. H. Scott, J. P. Sharpe, T. D. Wallace, J. Rog. Wilson, J. B. Wilson, S. S. Wylie, G. M. Zimmerman.

The degree of A. B. was conferred on all of these.

That of A. M. in cursu upon the following: Henry H. Bingham, Esq., Samuel J. M. McCarrell, Esq., Rev. J. M. Mealy, Rev. Samuel C. Kerr, Rev. Orr Lawson, Rev. Wm. Ballantine, Rev. S. M. Morton, John C. S. Wells, T. H. B. Patterson, Esq., W. H. Godber, M. M. Travis, Rev. W. H. Gill, James P. Barrow, Rev. C. Knepper. Rev. R. M. Brown.

Hon. Deg. of A. B.—L. R. Metzgar, M. D., New Texas, Pa.; Wm Franklin Barclay, M. D., Saltsburg, Pa. Hon. Deg. of M. S.—Nicholas K. Wade, Esq., Washington, Pa. Hon. Deg. of A. M.—Chauncey W. Allen, Esq., Albany, N. Y.; Hon. Henry W. Hoffman, Baltimore; His Excellency John W. Geary, Governor of Pennsylvania; Collins Williamson, Student of Theology, Allegheny.

Owing to the protraction of the exercises, the President deemed it prudent to omit the Baccalaureate. He, however, made a few most excellent and pertinent remarks to the class; and then, in the happiest manner possible, paid a deserved compliment to the large audience present, and to our citizens generally, for the profound interest they had manifested in the exercises of the commencement occasion. Doctor Edwards is a man of fine culture, and seems to possess a very large share of good common sense.

If he brings to bear, on the every day practical operations of the College, ability and tact commensurate with the ease, propriety and dignity with which he conducted the exercises of this commencement, there can be no doubt of eminent fitness for the responsible position to which he has been called.

At four o'clock P. M. Dr. Moore gave a Historical discourse for the Washington class of 1842. It numbered twenty-one members. Each one of these was photographed with the skill of a genuine artist. The Doctor certainly did a masterly job. We can scarcely conceive how it could have been bettered. Thus closed the commencement exercises of Washington and Jefferson College. AMICUS.

RAILROAD CASUALTIES.

Accident to an Emigrant Train.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BRANTFORD, C. W., August 2.—The emigrant train, leaving here at ten o'clock last night, when near Paris ran over a drove of horses, which strayed on the track, throwing the engine down an embankment of fifteen feet, killing the engineer, Graham, and seriously injuring the fireman. None of the passengers hurt.

Railroad Smash-Up.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BURLINGTON, VT., August 2.—The night express train of the Rutland and Burlington Railroad was thrown down an embankment and badly smashed, ten miles south of this city last night, by ties being maliciously placed on the track. None of the passengers were seriously injured.

Locomotive Explosion.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MOBILE, August 2.—An enjine on the Mobile and O. W. R. R., exploded to-day, and killed the engineer and fireman. Passengers uninjured.

Reconstruction in Georgia.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

AUGUSTA, GA., Aug. 2.—Ex-Gov. Brown is publishing a series of letters in the Chronicle and Sentinel, in reply to ex-Senator Hill, and in advocacy of reconstruction under the Military bill. Governor Perry, of South Carolina, has written another letter in opposition to Reconstruction on the Congressional plan.

Escape of Prisoners.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, August 2.—Four prisoners confined in the Floyd county jail at New Albany, Indiana, escaped therefrom to-day by breaching the rear wall. Two were re-arrested, however, but the others are still at large.

Further Election Returns.

REPUBLICAN CONGRESSMAN ELECTED.

Clean Sweep of the Legislature.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

MEMPHIS, August 2.—Gen. Thomas and staff left for Louisville this evening. Most of the troops have also returned. Many negroes have been discharged in consequence of the election. They are said to threaten retaliation. All is quiet so far.

NASHVILLE, August 2.—Several freedmen having been discharged by employers in this city for voting the radical ticket, and others threatened, General Carlin has ordered Mr. Groesbeck to use every effort to find employment for them and compel an immediate settlement with former employers.

The United States troops sent to Franklin and Springhill to keep order, have returned, and the special police and cavalry have been withdrawn from the streets of Nashville.

Wm. McDonald was killed on Wednesday at Elkmont, Ala., in a street fight with Mr. Featherman.

An assault was made at Murfreesboro today by H. C. McLaughlin, editor of the Monitor, on Mr. Sherbood, Registration Commissioner, and the military were sent there, a riot being feared. Major Ready telegraphed the State authorities that he had appointed extra police, and could maintain the peace.

The returns so far foot up a majority for Brownlow, But few counties complete. The majority for Brownlow in Nashville and Davidson foots up 3,916, with a few precincts to hear from.

Trimble, Stokes, Arnell, Magnaw, Hawkins, Mullins, Nunn, and Butler, Republicans, are elected to Congress, and a clean sweep of both branches of the Legislature.

Yellow Fever Epidemic.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GALVESTON, August 2.—Yellow fever has been pronounced epidemic. There were six interments on the 31st.

MARRIAGE AND HOUSEKEEPING.—There are a great many persons who are just beginning life, that are newly married, and that are just turning, I trust, away from the hotel and the boarding-house to keep house; for I think that, next to virtue, house-keeping is the desirable thing for newly married persons. You will perhaps wonder what I have to say upon this. I have this to say, that to any young person's life this is a change so marked, it is a step so different to any other, that if you know how, with this peculiar and critical step of your life, to take also one other, it will not be alone marrying for time—it will be love for eternity. Is there anything more beautiful than true love? No flowers show such colors or exhale such fragrance as does true love, that makes one's life a sacrifice for and a service of another. Is there anything more beautiful this side of God's throne, than two right-minded and purely-loving souls beginning to live together, each one servant in love to the other? Now, just beginning a virtuous wedded life is not religion; but if you make this first step in a series, it will do more to lead to a Christian course of life than perhaps any other thing possibly could.—Beecher.

—A new daily paper is contemplated in Cleveland on the co-operative system. The capital stock is to be $100,000, divided into shares of $10 each, ten per cent of which is to be paid at the beginning. It is said that $20,000 have already been pledged towards the enterprize. If the plans of the projectors are carried out the columns of the paper will be free to every party, body and clique without any definite object in view. Several newspaper men are said to be interested in the experiment.

—"An old Banker" denounces, in the New York Tribune, the proposed 15 cent notes, saying they will be most inconvenient, and accommodate no one but those who take their grog at hotels which sell 15 cent drinks. He votes for no new denomination of currency, unless it be a 20-cent note.

Pittsburgh Gamblers.

We have not heard much lately concerning the gambling fraternity in our city, and whether they are operating to as great an extent as usual we have no means of knowing. They have been under the ban more or less for some years, more so, we believe, than in any other city of like importance in the United States, and this is more the result of public opinion, or general detestation of the class, than efficiency on the part of municipal authority. Whatever gambling is carried on, is necessarily done in great seclusion, with all precautions taken to prevent discovery. From time to time there have been gamblers arrested, but only arrested; they are never brought to trial; an indictment may be found, the accused put under bail; but when the time comes for trial, the prosecutor is non est. This arises in most instances from the fact that the persons prosecuting have been unlucky at play, and having been paid back their losses, with something beside, are satisfied, and make it convenient not to be found while the grand jury or the Court are in session. Of course the defendants present themselves, and may well feel perfectly secure. Sometimes, too, the "amicable arrangement" is made before the cases pass out of the hands of the magistrate. So it has been, and so it will continue to be, until more stringent laws are enacted. It may be said, and with force, too, that the laws are sufficiently stringent; that what is wanting is honesty on the part of those whose duty it is to enforce or prevent the violation of the laws. It is the fashion, we know, for officers to wait until information is made by some one else, and they have a warrant in their hands, before they feel called upon to act, and even then conceal what they know concerning the charge against the arrested party, not feeling required to assist in the prosecution any more than to become prosecutors themselves. It is a lamentable fact, also, that police officers find it convenient to be on friendly terms with gamblers, and to assist them when in trouble, put them on their guard when in danger, rather than serve the honest portion of the community in whose protection they are sworn to act.

We judge that gambling is a dull business in this city, just now, and that there is no particular necessity for an organized demonstration against the evil, such as we notice is being made in eastern cities. Professional gamblers cannot reside long in any community without becoming pretty generally known, and hence, those of the fraternity resident here are known to most citizens. We judge, therefore, as to the dullness of the business from having observed a party of ten or a dozen of the gentry sunning themselves at the corner of Fifth and Smithfield streets yesterday afternoon. Having breakfasted, and fairly awake for the day, they looked as if in readiness for such customers as might be "roped in."

Ingratitude Extraordinary.

We have an instance of, if not base, rather extraordinary, ingratitude to note. A man named Michael Grayson, residing in the neighborhood of Lawrenceville, got upon a passenger car a day or two since, in an intoxicated condition, scarcely noticeable at first, but after riding some distance, the alcoholic fumes disturbed his equilibrium and he evinced a desire to relieve his stomach. A lady sitting opposite was much annoyed at the symptoms, and although she might have been content to withstand his spitting upon her dress, the fear of having her lap made a deposit for the contents of the fellow's overcharged stomach, very naturally somewhat excited her nerves. With a view to prevent such a calamity, he was persuaded to go out upon the front platform, and an attache of the road, to prevent him falling off the car, took a position on the steps near him. When near the toll gate he expressed a desire to get off at that point, and the driver "held up." The car did not come quite to a stop, and as the man let go his hold of the railing at the front of the platform, he fell to the ground. The railway employee leaped off and by a dexterous movement prevented the car wheels from passing over the man, thus saving his life, or at least preventing him from serious injury. For performing this service the official was prosecuted before Alderman Lynch for assault and battery, arrested, and entered bail for trial. The prosecutor went before Justice Jancey, in Lawrenceville, but that magistrate refused to entertain the case. A hearing of the case might have resulted in its dismissal by Alderman Lynch, but the defendant, judging from the surroundings, concluded to waive all privileges and let the matter go to Court. We very much doubt whether it will go there. Had the man been run over, negligence or carelessness would have been charged. This did not occur, and, for preventing the mishap, a criminal charge is brought.

The Allegheny Dispensary.

We are pleased to learn from Dr. F. H. Campbell, the attending physician, that the Allegheny Dispensary, which was organized in June, 1865, is once more in working condition. The city of Allegheny has long felt the need of an institution of this kind, and the spirit inducing the leading medical men of the city to devote their time, and others to make contributions for its benefit, is a really commendable one, and worthy of the praise of all true philanthropists. The directors have been peculiarly fortunate in securing the services of Dr. Campbell, as attending physician. His close attention to business, as well as his gentlemanly and courteous manner towards all who visit the Dispensary, is a sufficient recommendation. But, in addition to these, the Doctor is a finished scholar, and has enjoyed advantages in his medical studies seldom met with by others of his profession, which renders his success in the practice of medicine a certainty. The Doctor informs us that the supply of medicines needs replenishing, and we think the druggists of Allegheny could not contribute to a more charitable purpose. Send on your medicines, gentlemen, to Allegheny Dispensary, third floor, City Building, and Dr. Campbell will acknowledge the receipt of them.

Escape from Jail.

The negro, Lucas, who was arrested a few days since charged with stealing two valuable horses from the McKinley brothers, and two from Mr. Holie, of Wilkinsburg, and who was committed to jail in default of three thousand dollars bail, managed and successfully executed his escape from that institution early yesterday morning.

It appears that Lucas changed clothes with a soldier, who is a vagrant, and while a number of that class of prisoners were being discharged in the morning, he passed out with them in his disguise. In order to more effectually disguise himself he wrapped a handkerchief around his mouth as if having the toothache. The movement was well executed, more scientifically even than his thieving operations. The fact was not discovered until he was out of reach. We did not learn the name of the party who was an accessory to his escape, but hear that an information has been made against him before Mayor McCarthy by Warden White, charging him with aiding a prisoner to escape, and a commitment placed in the Warden's hands on that charge. The police are on Lucas' track.

Friendship Pic-Nic.

The Friendship Fire Company of Allegheny city give their first annual pic-nic at Monitor Grove, on Wednesday, the fourteenth instant. It is the intention of the managers to make this the pic-nic of the season, and the Committee of Arrangements are regardless of time or expense, working to this end. The names of Kurtz, Hall, Crow, Bowden, and others in the committee are sufficient to warrant its success. Smith's band will furnish the music, and all amateurs of the terpsichorean art, who have had the pleasure of hearing this band, say that it is the band par-excellence. Trains leave the Allegheny Depot for the grove from 6 A. M. till 4:30 P. M., so that all who desire it, will, for the small sum of one dollar, have an opportunity to "trip the light fantastic toe" from "sunny morn till dewy eve."

City Mortality.

A. G. McCandless, Physician of the Board of Health, reports the following interments in the city from July 21 to July 28, 1867:

Septicemia, 2; typhoid fever, 3; apoplexy, 1; disease of liver, 1; inflamation of bowels, 1; cancer, 1; hernia, 1; consumption, 1 measles, 1; cholera infantum, 6; still born, 6; indigestion, 1; convulsions, 1; unknown, 1; morasmus, 1; hydrocepalus, 1; debility, 1.

Males,	13	White,	26	Total.........29
Females,	16	Colored,	3

Of the above there were: Under one year, 15; from one to two, 3; from two to five, 1; from twenty to thirty, 2; from thirty to forty, 4; from forty to fifty, 1; from fifty to sixty, 2; from seventy to eighty, 1.

The Second Methodist Church, Rebecca street, Allegheny, S. F. Crowther, pastor, is erecting a fine, commodious church edifice, beside the chapel in which they now worship. The brick work is now one story high, and presents a fine appearance. It will be an honor to the denomination, as well as a blessing to the vicinity. Considering that the organization is only about two years old, they deserve the sympathy and aid of the community in so noble an enterprise for the public good.

Election of Teachers.—The Board of School Directors of East Birmingham have elected the following teachers: J. F. McClymonds, Principal; Assistant, Miss Sarah Neely; Principals of the Grammar Department, Mrs. A. D. Fife and Miss Maggie Crewson; Principals of the Intermediate Department, Miss Bella Crewson and Miss Mary A. Jones; Primary Department, Mrs. McMain, Miss A. E. Cutcheon, Miss Mary Williams, Miss Lizzie Morgan, Miss Lena McLain, Miss S. Bausman and Miss F. Bevington.

A Blind Girl Cured.—One of the most astounding cures that has come to our notice recently, is that of a Miss Fisher, of Beaver county, who was blind of both eyes and was entirely cured by DR. KEYSER, of 120 Penn street. This young lady had, besides, made use of medical knowledge within an area of fifty miles to no purpose. Her brother, who related the case to us, regarded it as a most wonderful cure.

Allegheny Mayoralty.—Mr. Samuel Long, the present Chief of Police, is being supported by many as a fit person for Mayor of Allegheny City. Mr. L. is an old citizen, has long sustained a high reputation as a police officer, and we doubt not would fill the office of Mayor quite acceptably.

"Pleasant Hours" can be had, with all the late papers and magazines, at Hogle & Chambers', 74 Fifth street.

Indispensable to Health.

The regular action of all the carrying-off organs is indispensable to health; hence no function of the human body is attended with more serious results than costiveness, or want of action in those organs. If the effete matters of the human system are allowed to remain and obstruct the natural channels, there cannot be good health, a fact which must be apparent to every one of common sense. The usual remedies prescribed in such cases are often of no use, and are frequently injurious, as their stimulating properties are liable to leave a greater torpor or debility than existed prior to their administration. There is a remedy, however, which will not only impart tone and regularity to those habitually costive, but will at the same time cleanse and improve every function of life. This remedy is DOCTOR KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER.

Its supereminent qualities furnish the material, which, by a slow but sure and regular process, establishes the regularity of every natural office in the animal economy, and cleanse the blood of every taint and impurity. There is health and tonic power in every dose of DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER. It has made cures where all other remedies of the materia medica have failed. The cures here in Pittsburgh ought to convince any one of its superiority over any other proprietary medicine in use. If KEYSER'S BLOOD Searcher were known as it should be, there are thousands suffering with languor and ill health, who could be restored to comfort and happiness. Reader, try DR. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER for any chronic disease, for which the Doctor recommends it, and you will be cured. If you are not sure whether it is suited to your case, call on Doctor Keyser and he will tell you. Prepared and sold at 140 Wood street, one dollar per bottle or six for five dollars.

Dr. Keyser's Consultation Rooms for all skin and blood diseases, and for lung examinations, 120 Penn street, from 8 A. M., until 4 P. M.

Pittsburgh and Her Skilled Workmen.

While Pittsburgh is pretty proud of her superiority in the manufacture of iron, nails, and glass, she is not forgetful of the possession in other mechanical departments of as skilled workmen as the world can produce. In the gas, water and steam fitting business, which is one that should be confined to good mechanics only, she boasts of workmen who are superior to none in the country. Among those who have had long experience in that branch of trade, and whose name is suggested by its mere mention, is Mr. T. T. Ewens, whose well known establishment is located at No. 165 Wood street. He has long been recognized in the front rank of those following the business, and his work has been subjected to the severest tests without taking away anything from the high reputation he enjoys. Practical himself, giving personal supervision and attention to all work entrusted to his care, and employing none but the very best mechanics, he has made an enviable record as a mechanic. He attends to all descriptions of plumbing work, to gas and steam fitting, at the most reasonable prices. Orders from the country districts are promptly attended to, and competent mechanics are despatched to all parts to execute new work and repair the old. At his store, in addition to a large and carefully selected stock of gas fixings, chandeliers, pendants, oil lamps, globes and ornaments, will be found a very excellent assortment of iron and wood pumps, hydrants, bath tubs, enclosed wash-stands, sink basins, and everything pertaining to water fixing. For any work in this line we can safely commend Mr. Ewens to the patronage of our readers. Remember the place, No. 165 Wood street, near Sixth.

A Fine Improvement.

The new jewelry warehouse being erected by our friends Reineman, Meyran & Siedle, on the west side of Fifth, immediately north of Wood street, will be an ornament to the street. It is in the ancient Byzantian style, and will present a very chaste and elegant appearance. The lot is 25 by 50 feet and is entirely covered by the building, which is of brick and will be five stories (in all seventy feet) high. The lower story has an iron front, the upper stories are of Philadelphia pressed brick, with ornate stone facings. The cellar is to be arranged, finished and used, together with the ground floor, for salesrooms. It will be spacious and well lighted. The firm will also use the fifth story for their business purposes, communicating with it from the adjoining private alley by means of a hoisting apparatus. The second, third and fourth stories will be finished for offices, with which a stairs from the street will communicate directly.

This enterprising firm is sparing no expense. The material, workmanship and style of their building are of the very best, and the arrangement will enable them to transact their large business with great convenience to themselves and their customers, and the building, when completed according to the designs shown us by the architects, Barr & Moser, will be one of the most attractive in the city. It is expected that they will occupy it in the month of September.

H. P. Ballard & Co., Produce Commission Merchants, New York.

The mercantile community fully recognize the importance of having in the metropolitan cities, corresponding houses to which consignments may be made in full faith that the interests of the consignors will be honestly regarded. To-day we advertise the business card of Messrs. H. P. Ballard & Co., a strictly produce commission house, No. 332 Washington street, New York, which will in all respects meet the requirements of shippers at this point. The firm enjoys a high business reputation, and are eminently worthy of confidence. Its members are careful business gentlemen, who have had a liberal business experience of over ten years in the produce and provision business, and are fully acquainted with the wants of all shippers, and will make it highly advantageous to the who favor them with their patronage. The firm does not discriminate in favor of large shippers, but with an universal rule of promptness, safety and carefulness deal equally as liberal with small dealers. Full and correct reports of the markets will be sent free from the office of this house to all shippers, either weekly or semi-weekly. Orders for all kinds of merchandize will be filled free of charge. We cheerfully commend Messrs. Ballard & Co. to the patronage of our readers, and bespeak for them a large share of business from this section of country.

Why are They Afraid to Test Their Machines at Home?

If the Wheeler & Wilson and Howe were so successful at Paris, they should not be afraid to test them at home at our State Fair. The agents of these machines ask not to test for a premium, but go out and exhibit the machines: but I said that I was going to enter the Weed Sewing Machine for the contest. We don't deny that the Wheeler & Wilson received the gold medal. For what! Only on account of a button hole attachment. That is what they received it for.

Howe received one as an inventor—not for machine.

The Judges at first awarded the Weed the first prize, but changed on the ground that the Wheeler & Wilson had a button hole attachment.

The Weed received one of the highest medals. For what! Being perfectly adapted to all kinds of work.

Bronze medal to A. B. Howe for sewing machine.

Honorable mention, Empire Sewing Machine.

Such is the capacity of the Weed that we have always claimed it to be the best machine in the United States, but we now claim it to be the best in the world—so says the Paris Fair of 1867, out of eighty-two represented. Call and examine it at 112 Grant street.

The Merchants Livery Stable, 141 and 143 Liberty Street.

This well conducted and favorably known stable has been purchased by Mr. J. Ward Nicholson, who enters into the business under the most favorable auspices. The stables have long sustained a high reputation and under the management of Mr. Nicholson must prove more popular than ever. The stock of vehicles, such as buggies, carriages, barouches, buck-wagons, and everything else "on wheels" is large and superior. The stock of horses is equally good, embracing some of the fastest goers as well as the safest and quietest. Some additions to the fast stock have recently been made, and fanciers who delight to dust their neighbors on the road will do well to favor the Merchants Stable with a call. We hope the new proprietor will meet with the large share of success of which he is highly deserving.

Notice to the Public.

The public will please take notice that at the Great World's Fair, held at Paris, 1867, the Wheeler & Wilson Manufacturing Company did not exhibit a Button Hole Machine as stated by the Howe Agent, but they did exhibit their unrivalled Sewing Machines with its crystal foot and Button Hole attachments, and received at the hands of the eminent jurors composing the committee, the only Gold Medal for perfection in Sewing Machines.

WM. SUMNER & Co.

La Rue is Coming.—The great La Rue's famous minstrel troupe is on its way to this city and will open of course to a crowded audience on Monday evening next at the Opera House. This company is generally conceded to be the best representatives of the Ethiopian character now travelling in America. The chief feature of their entertainment is its originality. They ignore all the wornout and threadbare jokes and comicalities which form the stock in trade of most companies. Let every body be in waiting for the carnival.

The Best Known Tonic—Caswell, Mack & Co.'s Combination of Iron Phosphorus and Calisaya, known as Ferro-Phosphorated Elixir of Calisaya. The iron restores color to the blood; the Phosphorus renews waste of the nerve tissue, and the Calisaya gives a natural, healthful tone to the digestive organs.

One pint contains the virtue of one ounce of Calisaya and one teaspoonful a grain of Iron and Phosphorus. Manufactured by CASWELL, MACK & CO., New York. For sale by all druggists.

The Japanese Historian, who accompanied the troupe which recently visited this city, said that he forgot himself and thought he was in the land of the Tycoon, when he was taken into the Old Tea Mart, No. 20 Fifth street. The teas were so fragrant that the educated Jap readily thought he had changed his base. Tea drinkers will make a note of the fact, that no where else in this city can better teas be procured. Joseph A. Robinson, is the proprietor.

Cold Sparkling Soda Water at J. T. Sample's Drug Store, No. 38 Federal street, Allegheny.

The Blind Restored.

A young gentleman of this city, who has been almost totally blind for many years past, called last Friday a week on Dr. Aborn the well known Eye and Ear Surgeon, and placed himself under his care for treatment. At first his friends despaired of any improvement of the sight, but Dr. Aborn had high hopes of his ability to cure, notwithstanding the case was extremely difficult. One week's treatment, singular as it may appear, the young man, who had hitherto been barely able to distinguish light from darkness, was able to read printing from the smallest type. We do not marvel at this, inasmuch as we have been accustomed to witnessing such extraordinary and miraculous cures since the advent of this distinguished surgeon in our city. He is equally successful in the treatment of diseases of the ear, the throat and chest, as many of our readers can attest from experience and personal knowledge. The office of this distinguished citizen of whom our city is proud, since he has adopted our city as his permanent place of abode, is at No. 134 Smithfield street.

A Good Cup of Tea is a luxury in any weather, and it is a decided one when the delicious beverage is made from Robinson's choice teas. At this old established mart, No. 20 Fifth street, will be found a very superior stock of all the favorite brands of teas, which are warranted to be free from adulteration. Housekeepers will consult their own interests by favoring the store with a call. Prices are very reasonable. SMW.

N. S. Biddle & Bro., Practical Plumbers, Gas and Steam Fitters, Beaver street, between Franklin and Chesnut, Manchester, Pa., have on hand Chandeliers, Pendants, Brackets and all kinds of Gas Fixtures, Lead Pipe, Sheet Lead, Bar Lead, Gum Hose, Hydrants, Shower Baths, Water Closets, Bath Tubs, Lift, Force and Ale Pumps, Hydraulic Rams, Vitrified Drain Pipe for Sewers. All work warranted to give satisfaction.

Important Notice.—Dr. Spencer, Dentist, No. 254 Penn street, requests us to state to his many friends and patrons that, having removed his family to the country for the summer months, it will be necessary for those desiring to see him to call at his office between the hours of seven o'clock A. M. and six o'clock P. M. These will be his office hours until about the 15th of September, when he will move back to the city, and can then be found at all hours. tf.

Good News from Allegheny, formerly known as Manchester, that Messrs. N. S. Biddle & Bro., the well known practical Plumbers and Gas Fitters, are doing their work with good strong material. Any person wanting anything in their line will give them a call. Remember the place, Beaver street, between Franklin and Chesnut sts., Manchester. MWS

We sell Dry Goods both at wholesale and retail, and are, as a consequence, enabled to keep a larger and much better assorted stock, to sell cheaper, and give the goods in more accommodating quantities than exclusive jobbing houses. Retail merchants are invited to examine our stock.
J. W. BARKER & Co.,
59 Market street.

A Rare Treat.—For one who has been accustomed to get something good and clean at home, we, would say if business don't permit you going home, drop into the Continental Dining Saloon, No. 73 Fifth street, and you will find a dinner waiting for you as good as can be got anywhere in the city. Go and try it.

Henderson's Carminative.—A certain cure for Diarrhea, Cramp in the Stomach or Bowels, Cholera Morbus, &c., contains nothing irritating or injurious to the stomach. It is cheap and infallible. Every family that tries it once will keep it on hand ready for immediate use. Sold by all druggists. au3:2w.

Coffee of the very best quality, green, browned and ground, for sale at the old established tea mart of Joseph A. Robinson, No. 20 Fifth street. Stop on your way to or from market and try his specimens. Certainly none better can be obtained in this market. SMW.

Col. J. D. Egan, the enterprising and popular book and news dealer, Sixth street, below Smithfield, advertises a collection of choice books, to-day, which will be sold at great bargains. Nowhere else in the city can books be purchased to better advantage.

The Latest Out.—For all the latest in the eating line, go to the Continental Dining Saloon, No. 73 Fifth street, below the Postoffice, and you can get a better dinner for fifty cents than at any other house in the city.

Something Good.—If you want anything good for your dinner or supper, go to Holtzheimer's Dining Saloon, under Miner's Book Store, No. 73 Fifth street, and you can get all the market affords, and at reasonable prices.

Deafness, Discharges from the Ears, Catarrh, Diseases of the Eye, and all affections of a chronic and obstinate character successfully treated by Dr. Aborn, 134 Smithfield street. Office hours from 9 o'clock A. M. till 4 o'clock P. M.

The Allegheny Grocery and Provision Company stock is being rapidly subscribed for, and but few shares remain unsold, which can be obtained at No. 26 Federal street. We know of no safer or better investment.

Another Commissioner.—Judge McCandless, of the United States Court, has appointed as United States Commissioner James W. Hannen, Esq., of Meadville, Pa., vice A. B. Richmond, Esq., resigned.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 3, 1867.

TENNESSEE.

For some weeks past the Democrats and Conservatives have insisted, with a degree of earnestness and pertinacity indicating to superficial observers an intense sincerity, that there was imminent danger of numerous and bloody collisions in Tennessee on the day of the general election, which was Thursday of the present week; in fact, that it was seriously to be apprehended civil war would there and then break out again, and might spread nobody could tell whither. These people importuned the President to remove the Governor of Tennessee, a State whose full membership in the Union is acknowledged by all departments of the government; to abrogate the State Constitution; to revoke laws duly passed by the Legislature; to institute a military administration; and to do all manner of things which they pronounce most flagrant and unpardonable usurpations when done in revolted Commonwealths that have not been restored to former privileges and rights by the clemency of Congress. Such inconsistency was involved in making these demands as to beget a suspicion, at least, that the only superinducing motive was not fear of actual disorder and violence, and that under this apparent desire for the preservation of public order, lurked a scheme for attaining political advantages in contravention of established law. Executive violence was invoked to the end that the rebel element might, by means of it, gain a triumph not otherwise obtainable.

The election was held. It was the most peaceable election the State has witnessed for many years. There was literally no disturbance. The ballots were quietly deposited and counted and the results announced. Not a man was killed, or maimed, or even knocked down. All the tempest was in efforts to induce President JOHNSON to stretch his authority for the benefit of men who would gladly have hung him to the nearest tree three years ago, but for wholesome fear of Union troops.

Of course, the Conservatives will be likely to insist that the admirable tranquility that prevailed was due to the precautionary military arrangements made by Gen. THOMAS. We are not disposed to dispute but those arrangements had a restraining influence on them, the extent of which they are in a condition to appreciate more fully than other people. It may be they would have resorted to ruffianism if additions had not been made to the military force in readiness provided actually repression had become necessary. But we deny emphatically that there was a reasonable probability of tumultuary proceedings on the other side. The use made by General THOMAS of Governor BROWNLOW's militia shows that he did not anticipate excesses from that quarter. He understood that the State authorities and the supporters thereof would act strictly within the letter and spirit of the laws. This was further evidenced by the unwillingness of General GRANT to go in person to Tennessee that he might add the weight of his name and authority to the efforts to calm the expected tempest. He clearly did not believe a storm was brewing in the party holding the local administration, or that the other party would adopt extreme measures unless they could do so under the protection of the President himself.

The lesson is valuable in its application to the existing status in all the Southern States. In the elections and in the proceedings preliminary thereto, but little, if any, trouble will be encountered except under encouragement from the Executive at Washington.

EXTENSION OF THE FRANCHISE.

When the present session of the British Parliament opened the subject of deliberation that engrossed the popular interest was the extension of the elective franchise. The Liberals had a clear majority of the members in the Commons, and appearances indicated that they would have little difficulty in concerting a measure of Reform upon which they could unite, and at the same time afford general satisfaction to their respective constituencies. Demonstrations on the part of the people had indicated what was desired, and there was really no intrinsic difficulty in satisfying the prevalent expectation.

When the hour for action arrived it found the Liberals divided in opinion. Some of them were clearly half-hearted. They were with the Liberals not so much from conviction as from convenience. Others were so timid as to be easily frightened from the path duty and honor required they should walk in. The leaders themselves wavered, and when they brought forward their bill it was not up to the demand.

The tories took the wind out of it by presenting a measure still more liberal in its provisions. From that moment the liberals were divided, not a few of the more advanced among them giving in their adherance to the tory measure.

The tories profited by this diversion, but for some weeks did not press their Reform bill to a decisive vote. At last, when they could delay no longer, they disclosed the hollowness of their professions by increasing the qualifications requisite to constitute a voter.

Yesterday's cable telegrams announced that the people, in view of their retrogression, had resolved to hold another grand Reform demonstration in Hyde Park, on Monday next. That the government is indisposed to allow such a meeting to be held is well known; but recently, after considering the case in all its aspects, it was decided not to incense the people by interfering with the rights of assemblage and discussion. It may be taken for granted, therefore, that the meeting will be held, and that it will comport, in members, enthusiasm, and in mental and moral power, with the gravity of the occasion. The demand is for universal suffrage, and however the aristocracy may evade it for a while longer, in the end it will be established.

There are many points of resemblance between this contest in Great Britain for the right of all the people to participate in the government, and the same contest as it is developed in this country. There is the same wavering and uncertainty among the Republicans here as among the Liberals there; and the same tendency on the part of the Democrats here to make advances, in view of possible temporary gains, and to recede therefrom, as among the tories in the British islands. In each case, nevertheless, the final result is certain. In the end, all who bear the burdens of government will obtain their just right of sharing in the management thereof.

PENNSYLVANIA CONSERVATISM.

It is always difficult to tell what has happened at Washington. This difficulty is illustratad in the case of the recently reported conference between the President and a deputation of Conservative Republicans from Pennsylvania. It seems to be tolerably certain that such a conference was held, and that four highly respectable gentlemen from this State participated in it. Beyond these meagre and unconsequential facts, the whole matter is involved in uncertainty.

One account represents that the Pennsylvanians sought the interview mainly to narrate their grievances in being denied a proper share in public patronage, but subordinately to tell that high functionary they could not support the Democratic ticket the coming fall. Another account avers that the burden of their disclosure was that they could not support the Republican ticket. A third account declares that they were in a condition of great embarrassment, growing out of the fact that they did not know what to do, and begged the President graciously to propound for their enlightenment what he thought they ought to do.

Furthermore, one account depicts the President as breaking out in a rage against Mr. WILLIAMS, the Republican nominee for Supreme Judge, and declaring that he ought to be defeated. The fury is so natural as to challenge almost unquestioning acquiescence. So is the disinclination to have genuine Republicans elected by the people. But, then, this is met by a most positive counter-statement, to the effect that the President held his passions admirably in check; that he was dignified and non-committal to a degree suiting a grave diplomatic negotiation; that he declared he could not settle any little disagreements between the two classes of his supporters in Pennsylvania; that he had great faith in the people, and could only leave the issue in their hands. If the interview happened in this latter way, the President is certainly improving in his manners, and if he shall keep on will, some day or other, in the distant future pass for a model of good breeding.

Which of these conflicting versions is the true one, we shall not be so presumptuous as to decide. Nor is it worth while to be in a hurry to have the riddle expounded. It may be of consequence to the Conservative Republicans, as they are pleased to call themselves, to determine what they will do, particularly in view of the approach of the Presidential contest, but to the great public it is a matter of no importance at all.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

The interest in Rome is intensified by the recent gorgeous display on the occasion of the canonization of the martyrs of the Roman faith, and the movement of Garibaldi to free Rome from the rule of the Pope, and add it to the Kingdom of Italy. The grandeur of the former had hardly died away, when the rejoicings of Pius IX. and his followers are turned into fears, lest the menacing attitude and attempt of Garibaldi, to wrest the territory of the Holy See from His Holiness, may prove a stern reality. The bold step of Garibaldi has given rise to some surmises as to the present condition of the Papal States. The old charge is reiterated in trumpet tones that "freedom of speech, freedom of the press, free schools, free pulpits, liberty of worship, liberty of trade, are utterly unknown in the territorial domains of the Pope." These words are quoted from an editorial in the Independent, from which we also glean some items, which we re-produce in a condensed form. Recent accounts show that the population of the Papal States numbers nearly seven hundred thousand, who are taxed to support an army of ten thousand strong—chiefly composed of mercenaries—and a vast body of ecclesiastics of all grades and of different orders. The Pope receives, as sovereign, an annual income of about six hundred thousand dollars in gold. In addition to this income, the Pope receives from other countries contributions that swell his annual receipts to nearly five millions of dollars in gold. The Papal territory now embraces only 4,891 square miles—a little larger than Connecticut. The city of Rome is not quite as populous as Boston. It has 201,000 souls, including an ecclesiastical force of 6,500 strong. The question is not relating to his position as the accredited and revered head of the Catholic Church, but as sovereign. It is claimed that Rome is the natural capital of Italy, and until it is the seat of its government the new kingdom is insecure. Complaint is made of the existence of a power within a power in Italy. The course of the Pope, it is thought by many, is preparing the way for a great religious reaction in Southern Europe. According to the treaty of September 1864, Napoleon agreed to withdraw his troops from Rome, on condition that Italy would "not attack the present territory of the Pope, and even to prevent by force any attack proceeding from the interior." Unless the terms of the treaty are changed by circumstances of a legitimate character, sufficient to abrogate the agreement made in 1864, Victor Emmanuel is bound to prevent an attack upon Rome by Garibaldi and his followers. In any event we look for stirring news from that quarter ere long.

From the report of the Disabled Ministers' Fund of the O. S. Presbyterian Church, we learn that over thirty-one thousand dollars of the thirty-seven thousand available funds contributed last year has been distributed. In the course of the past year, fifty-four disabled ministers, seventy widows of deceased ministers, and eight families of orphans, have received substantial aid. The first of September has been designated by the General Assembly to make the annual collections in the churches for this Fund.

A lot has been purchased to erect a church in Monterey, Mexico, which will be known as the "First Protestant Church in Mexico." That church now numbers about thirty converted Mexicans, who worship in private houses. A lady named Rankin, connected with the American and Foreign Christian Union, has raised ten thousand dollars, and purchased a building, now being altered, for a female seminary in Monterey.

The New York City Sunday School and Missionary Society of the Methodist Church are about establishing an Institute Library in some central point for the teachers and older scholars in that body. The Library is to contain the best Sunday School publications of this country and Europe, with valuable photographic views, pictures, maps, diagrams, etc. Rev. J. H. Vincent, who conducted an Institute in this city several weeks ago, has been authorized to send to London and expend six hundred dollars in purchasing pictures and maps for the Library. This sum is the first donation towards the project, and made by a member of the committee.

The Minutes of the New School Presbyterian Church, for the last year just out, show a gratifying increase in almost every department, especially in the collections for Church and benevolent purposes. There is an increase of one hundred and thirty-one ministers, over ten thousand communicants, and well nigh twenty thousand Sunday School scholars.

The Old School Presbyterian congregations of Cincinnati are about to erect a church on Hopkins street, opposite Lincoln Park, in that city, which will be under the charge of Rev. W. C. McCune, late pastor of the Orchard street United Presbyterian Church.

It is curious to note, says a Boston clergyman, how many people attend the circus only because they want to "please the children," but still more curious to observe that in very many instances it has taken two or three able bodied men, with as many strong women, to look after one darling little boy or girl. Such sights occur out here as well as at the "Hub," and just such frivolous excuses are made by professing church members.

The Trustees of Indiana Asbury University, at Greencastle, Ind., under the auspices of the M. E. Church, formerly presided over by Bishop Simpson, have determined to open the institution to such young ladies as may be prepared to enter the regular College course.

One of the Andover theological professors gets the credit of recommending a certain book to the favor of his students by saying it is distinguished for the "beautiful consecutiveness of its logical sequaciousness."

A New England secular paper ventures to affirm that the rain did not keep any clergymen out of their pulpits last Sunday week. A sly hit at the pew holders who stayed at home and slept out the day. We have a few of the same sort of pew holders, whose diligence to Mammon during the week is a palliation in their estimation for resting on the Sabbath, or getting slightly indisposed.

According to the Church Times, at a recent week-day service at St. Peter's, Maidstone, the congregation consisted of two ladies only. The curate commenced with "Dearly beloved sisters."

Theologians are beginning to sift the views of Prof. Draper, embodied in his late work. The Presbyterian charges Draper with asserting that nature not only influences the condition of man, but governs his creed. Below the parallel of 41 degrees (January is othermal) the climate is Catholic in its tendencies. North of that line it is Protestant.

The Lutheran estimates that not less than four fifths of the male members of the German Lutheran Churches in the eastern cities belong to some secret order—such as the Odd Fellows, Red Men, Turners, and the like. According to the conditions required by the Missourians and Synod of Ohio, these persons would have either to renounce their connection with these societies or be excommunicated. It thinks not one of a thousand will renounce their connection with these societies.

THE NEW AMES M. E. CHURCH.

EDITORS GAZETTE:—The Religious column of your daily of each Saturday morning is a valued one, and generally frank and fair. Your elaborate article of last Saturday on church edifices, though correct in the main, does injustice to one of the newest if not weakest of all the city congregations. In noticing the movements of Methodist Episcopal churches you speak of the church edifice as though it was a finished one. This would infer by the notice of the new Centenary church. Now the fact is, the Ames Church, the one referred to, is in exactly the same condition, the present portion finished being intended as the Lecture and School room of the completed building, which it is hoped to soon have placed under contract and to be built in Gothic style. You further intimate that a very clear departure from the policy and simplicity of the earlier Methodists is evident in architecture, as there is in the characteristic usages of primative Methodism. Whether there ever was any distinction in Methodist architecture different from the generality of existing denominations may be doubted. Be this as it may, it might interest some to know that in the very conception of the Ames church a strict conformity to all the distinctive peculiarities of usages and simplicity of primitive Methodism were sought to be maintained. All that wisdom and legal restraints could devise were embodied in the organization and charter to ensure their permanent observance, and to raise up as far as our influence might do it, a barrier to the admitted tendencies to departure from the simplicity of the Fathers, and the deplorable conformity of not only Methodists, but all churches to worldly maxims and customs.

The Causes of the Cholera on the Plains.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette accounts for the prevalence of the cholera along the Kansas Pacific Railway as follows:

There are no accommodations for travelers in Harker or Ellsworth City, save those of officers' quarters and private houses; and it is safe to presume that the cholera is the effect of three causes—first, crowdedness; second, the accumulation of nastiness from the late great floods; and third, bad whisky. Everything in the shape of tent or shanty is filled, and kept full of travelers, desirous of seeing the "heathen wilds." Along the whole route are "ranches," literally "gin mills," where they put a gain twist to the worst liquors in the country, and kill you with four drams over the hilltops. All along the Smoky Hill river and its many tributaries are drifts, full of rotten animals, and this, the surgeons say, has affected the water, which, by the nature of things, the men have to drink and use in their cooking. Either one of these causes would give cholera to any man, and cause it to spread in any community. The papers in the State crush this as much as they can, but that men who propose visiting this country soon may avoid the death they would probably meet, I give this statement, which is quite true.

CONVINCING.

FULTON, OSWEGO CO., July, 1866.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen: I have been severely afflicted with paralysis of the stomach, and even given up by several eminent physicians. I have tried several remedies of a tonic and stimulating nature, but without any good result. Some three or four months ago I was induced to try your STOMACH BITTERS, and have used about seven or eight bottles with a decided benefit. My health is greatly improved: and I consider your BITTERS the only efficacious remedy of their kind in the market. If used as directed they will always prove a sovereign remedy to those afflicted with dyspepsia or other diseases of a like nature.

Respectfully yours, LYMAN MUDGE.

HASTINGS, Dakota Co., Minn., Aug., 1866.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH, Pittsburgh.—Gentlemen: Have sold your BITTERS ever since they were brought out, and consider them the best among the many before the public. Those brought out since the tax has been imposed on spirits are trash. I never recommend them.

Respectfully and truly yours, H. J. MARVIN.

COLON, St. Joseph Co., Mich., July 21, 1866.

MESSRS. HOSTETTER & SMITH—Gentlemen: I consider your BITTERS a sovereign balm for a thousand ails. Yours, truly,

D. C. REYNOLDS, M. D.

CURE OF FISTULA.

DR. KEYSER: I write to thank you for your kindness and scientific management of my disease, for which I called to consult you some time in January last. You will remember that I had a complication of diseases, which finally ended in a terrible fistula, which I had been advised to "let alone" on account of a harassing cough, which it was feared might fasten on my lungs. I knew that the popular mode of treating diseases like mine was by a cutting operation, which, if successful at all, would naturally throw the disease upon the lungs or some other vital organ, on account of the suddenness of the cure and the immediate check to a discharge which I was constrained to believe was a salutary provision of Nature to get rid of some morbid condition in the system. I feel perfectly satisfied that your method of treatment, purifying to the system, and local applications to the fistulous part, must cure, if anything could, without cutting, which I find it did, and I am happy to report myself well in every particular, with sounder and better health than I have had for years. I would also add that the applications you made were almost painless, and have left me a new man, with all the energies and vigor of restored health.

Yours, gratefully, J—— C——.

Dr. Keyser's consultation rooms are No. 120 Penn street, from 9 A. M. until 4 P. M.

A USEFUL ARTICLE.—We beg to call attention to the

Expansive Document Envelope,

Patented August 16th, 1865, an article which has long been wanted by the business community, and which we believe to be superior to anything of the kind heretofore offered to the public.

Merchants, Bankers, Brokers, Lawyers, Insurance and Express Companies, State, County and City Officials, Executors, Administrators or Guardians, and all persons who transact business systematically, will find the Expansive Envelope invaluable on account of their utility, durability and economy.

For carrying letters in the pocket, or for the preservation of valuable papers of any kind, such as Insurance Policies, Government Securities, Deeds, Bonds, Mortgages, Wills or Legal Documents, or for transmission through the Mails of such papers or packages or samples of goods, the Expansive Envelopes are preferable to any others in the market, as they occupy less bulk in transportation, and whether they contain a single paper or enough to expand to the full capacity, (one or two inches,) the corners cannot be crushed. The filing labels can be laid flat, so that the contents of each envelope may be neatly lettered, and they can also be used to draw the envelopes from the pigeon holes. For sale by

PENNSYLVANIA MILITARY ACADEMY,

CHESTER, DELAWARE COUNTY, PA.

The Next Session commences

THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 5TH.

The Cadet Quarters, including rooms assigned, each to two Cadets, are complete in every respect for the comfortable accommodation of a corps of one hundred. The Department of Mathematics and Engineering is under the charge of a West Point graduate of high scientific attainments. The Classical and English Departments, and that of Modern Languages, are under the charge of able and experienced Professors and Instructors.

The discipline for which the Academy is distinguished, is strict and exacting, but not arbitrary. Careful attention is given to the moral and religious culture of Cadets.

The following are some of the patrons of the Academy in Pittsburgh: Francis Sellers, Esq., Jos. Woodwell, Esq., Jas. W. Woodwell, Esq., S. S. Fowler, Esq., W. S. Haven, Esq., Hon. J. P. SECOND

GRAND PRESENTATION

ENTERTAINMENT!

WILL POSITIVELY TAKE PLACE

SATURDAY, August 24, 1867,

AT

IRVING HALL, NEW YORK.

This Grand Distribution of Prizes will be Conducted on the Mutual Benefit Principle.

A PRO RATA DISTRIBUTION OF PROFITS TO TICKET-HOLDERS!

Capital, - - $1,287,148.

TICKETS, ONE DOLLAR EACH,

And limited to One Million Two Hundred and Eighty-seven Thousand One Hundred & Forty-eight.

The Fairest and Most Impartial Plan of Presentation yet Offered to the Public.

A PRIZE WITH EVERY TICKET.

PROSPECTUS.

A number of the leading Bankers and Merchants of New York, in consideration of the great success which has attended many of the Charitable Presentation Entertainments of the day, have organized themselves into a company with the view of inaugurating an enterprise which, while it shall return them a fair profit, shall offer greater advantages to ticket-purchasers than any yet presented; and which, being conducted upon a perfectly legitimate and business basis, shall be free from those objectionable features which have characterized many of these enterprises.

To this end they have consigned the sale of tickets, and the registering of the same, to CLARK, WEBSTER & CO., Bankers and Managers, No. 62 Broadway, New York, who will keep the records in their custody until the day of the Grand Presentation Entertainment, when they will be handed over to a committee selected by the audience to make an impartial distribution of prizes.

A reference to the number of prizes and the general plan of distribution, given below, will convince even the most skeptical of the great advantages which will accrue to all who participate in the enterprise; and the Commercial and Financial standing of the Company, and the Managers and Bankers thereof, will, they hope, prove a sufficient guaranty of the fairness and impartiality with which everything in connection with the scheme will be conducted, and that the interests of ticket holders will be most strictly watched over and guarded. In fact, it is the desire of the Managers to conduct every transaction for the mutual benefit of whoever shall purchase a ticket, and scrupulously to avoid any and everything which could in the slightest degree diminish the profits which are likely to accrue to all who invest.

The Bankers' and Merchants' First Grand Concert was given on July 4th. It was a grand success. The mammoth Hall was filled with the elite of the city. The audience appointed a committee of nine of the leading bankers and merchants, to examine the corresponding numbers to the tickets and Register books, to see that all is correct before making the grand distribution of prizes at the last Concert, on the 24th of August, 1867.

Immediately after the Grand Distribution, a list of the Presents awarded will be printed and sent to each ticket-holder.

Tickets, ONE DOLLAR EACH.

BELTING AND PACKING OFFICE OF W. & A. J. PACKARD, Youngstown, Ohio, June 17th, 1867.

Messrs. Burke & Barnes, Pittsburgh, Pa.

GENTLEMEN—We ship you, to-day, by railroad, a safe of your make, for a few repairs. The safe went through the disastrous fire that occurred here on the 6th of March last, burning our store and warehouse, and we are glad to inform you that the papers taken out of the safe after the fire were not harmed in the least. We did not suppose any safe, especially so small a size, could possibly stand such a fire, and when we discovered the papers all safe and sound, we were agreeably disappointed. We will give you an order for a large size safe when we get into our new store. Truly yours,

HUGH McKELVY, P. M.

Surety of the Peace.

Charles Whitehead is a peddler, and in the course of his daily peregrinations has occasion to pass the Custom House; but one James Cunningham, who is said to be a "habitual" loafer, making his headquarters on the steps of the Custom House, has disputed the right of the aforesaid peddler to pass and re-pass his loafing place, and, as Whitehead alleges, abuses and threatens him on all occasions. He made information against the loafer before Alderman McMasters for surety of the peace, and, having been arrested, is now loafing in jail, where he was committed for a hearing. What a pity it is that Warden White has not the pleasure of turning the key on a number of others of that class of individuals.

Spilt Milk.—John McKenna appeared before Alderman Lynch and made two informations against Mrs. Hineman, one for malicious mischief and the other for surety of the peace. He alleges that she went into his milk house and threw out his milk, and then threatened to beat his brains out with the bucket. The parties reside in Pipetown, and after the defendant had been arrested the matter was amicably settled and the defendant discharged on payment of costs.

Forcible Entry and Detainer.—Wm. Smith rented a house in Robinson township from a Mr. Steen, and for some reason Mr. Stein wanted him out, and to effect this his two sons, Thomas and William Steen, accompanied by officers Sarber and Smith, of this city, repaired to the place, and forcibly ejected him, and for this he makes an information before Alderman Strain against the young Steens and the two officers for forcible entry and detainer. A warrant was issued.

Malicious Mischief.—Washington McClintock made information before Mayor Morrison, yesterday, against three boys, Savage, Edger and Quinn, charging them with malicious mischief. He alleges that they entered his orchard, and stole his fruit, and in order to get into the enclosure tore some palings from the fence. A warrant was issued for their arrest.

Taken to Greensburg.—John Cline, alias Smears, and Charles Pohle, who were arrested and committed to jail, a few days since, charged with committing a burglary at Irwin's Station, were taken to Greensburg yesterday by Robert M. Reed, Sheriff of Westmoreland county.

A Wife Beater.—Adeline Ellsberry made information before Alderman Butler against her husband, Asa Ellsberry, charging him with assault and battery. Asa was arrested and, on a hearing, in default of the required bail was committed to jail to answer at September sessions.

Committed.—James Vaughn was committed to jail yesterday for a hearing today, by Alderman McMasters, on oath of John Duffy, charging him with obtaining goods under false pretense. We were unable to learn the facts in the case.

Wife Beater.—Alderman Butler, of the Sixth ward, yesterday committed to jail, in default of bail, Isaiah Ellsberry, for trial on a charge of assaulting and battering his wife, Adelia.

Boarding Under False Pretence.—Mrs. Mary Flinn, keeper of a boarding house, No. 154 Pike street, yesterday prosecuted, before Alderman Strain, James McGraw and William Whaler, alleging that they procured boarding by representing they were employed at Moorhead's mill and had wages to a considerable amount due them. This representation proved to be false, no wages being due them. Whaler's bill for boarding amounts to twelve dollars, and McGraw's to seven dollars and fifty cents. Warrants were issued.

Threatened to Beat Him.—Joseph McCarthy alleges that Mrs. Frank, a resident of the Ninth Ward, threatened to beat him yesterday, and to prevent her from committing the deed, he made information against her before Alderman Lynch, for surety of the peace. She was arrested and held for a hearing on Monday.

Selling Liquor on Sunday.—Valentine Burger made information before Alderman Taylor, yesterday against George Baust, of Lawrenceville, charging him with selling liquor on Sunday. A warrant was issued and the defendant arrested, when he gave bail for a hearing.

FOR SALE.

FOR SALE—The best Farm in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., containing about 280 acres, situated six miles south of the Pennsylvania Railroad, at Bolivar Station. The improvements are a large hued log house, with nine rooms, a good cellar; a frame bank barn, 40x70, with the best of stabling. Two apple and one peach orchard. The whole farm is under a high state of cultivation; the fencing is all No. 1; the soil is good, and is well watered; about 200 acres cleared, the remainder in good white oak timber. This property is offered at the low price of fifty dollars per acre. Possession immediately.

Also, a valuable Garden Farm, containing 89 acres, situated in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Youghiogheny river, and near Elrod's Station, on the Connellsville Railroad, about nineteen miles from the city. The improvements are a two-story brick house with six rooms, hall running through the house, with cellar; a No. 1 barn and other outbuildings. Abundance of the best fruits, of all varieties. Churches, Schools and Mills very convenient. Persons wishing to engage in gardening would do well to call and purchase quickly.

Also, a Farm of 140 acres, situated in West Wheatfield township, Indiana county, Pa., about 3½ miles from the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad. The improvements are—First, a two-story frame house, with five rooms, a large frame barn, 48x70, corn crib, carriage house, a good stone spring house and wood house. Second—a two-story log house, a large frame barn, 40x70, a 1½ story frame spring house, and other outbuildings. The fencing is all good, abundance of limestone on the place, and coal but a short distance. Convenient to Churches, Schools, Mills, &c. I am authorized to sell this property very cheap and on easy terms.

Also, An excellent Farm of 160 acres, of which 95 acres are under cultivation, situate in Christian county, Illinois. Improvements—a new frame dwelling containing 5 rooms; about 400 choice fruit trees, good fencing, &c. It lies within 2 miles of the Illinois Central R. R.; will be sold on reasonable terms. City property taken in part exchange if desired.

Also, a Farm of 312 acres in Penn township, Westmoreland county, 220 acres cleared and under cultivation, 92 acres of first-rate white oak and other timber, 2 dwelling houses, 1 of them 2 stories, the other 1 story, with a tenant house, with a first-rate Steam Sawmill in good running order; young orchard of grafted fruit. The land is rolling; every acre is tillable, with limestone soil and subsoil, with never failing springs; within one hundred rods of the Penna. Central Railroad; 28 miles east of Pittsburgh, and three miles west of Greensburg. This farm is pleasantly and eligibly situated in a good neighborhood; every acre is underlaid with coal. The title is good.

Also, one of the best farms in Young township, Indiana county, Pa., four miles from Western Pennsylvania Railroad, at Livermore Station, containing 300 acres—125 cleared and under No. 1 fencing, the residue in good timber. The improvements are two frame dwellings, containing eight rooms each; a large bank barn, 50 by 60 feet, and other necessary outbuildings, in good order. Five acres of orchard of choice varieties of fruit; four foot vein of coal, (now open,) under all the land, and abundance of limestone. It is a good thriving neighborhood, convenient to churches, schools, mills, &c., which I am authorized to sell very low and on good terms.

For further particulars, enquire of

Real Estate Agent, 164 Fourth street.

A FIRST CLASS

FARM FOR SALE!

The subscriber offers for sale the farm on which he resides, in Brooke county, W. Va., three miles east of Steubenville, on the Washington road, two miles from the Ohio river, and two miles from the Panhandle Railroad. The farm contains

320 ACRES

Of land of the first quality, 250 acres cleared and nearly all in grass. The remainder is well timbered and has coal in abundance and plenty of running water, and is all under fence. The buildings are a large

Two-Story Brick House,

A good TENANT HOUSE, TWO LARGE FRAME BARNS, and abundance of stable room and shelter, sufficient for one sheep, and other necessary outbuildings—all in good repair.

There are TWO APPLE ORCHARDS of choice fruit, 75 CHERRY TREES, of choice kinds, and plenty of other small fruits.

This is one of the most desirable farms in the county, taking everything into consideration, and as a grazing farm is unequalled.

It is convenient to Schools and Churches of various denominations, and in a good neighborhood. This land is all tillable, and lies well for division into two portions if desirable.

SMITHFIELD, OHIO.

VALUABLE FARM

AT PUBLIC SALE.

I will sell to the highest bidder, on the premises, adjoining the village of Smithfield, Jefferson county, Ohio, on the

Fourteenth day of Eighth Month (August) Next,

The old homestead, formerly owned and occupied by the late Benjamin W. Ladd, containing 254½ acres, more or less, being one of the best farms in the county, a fair proportion of which is in good timber. The entire balance (except about 20 acres) is well set in clover, timothy and blue grass. I will offer first the whole tract, reserving the privilege of then trying it divided in two tracts of about 127 acres each.

A small payment in cash will be required on day of sale, the remainder divided in payments easy for the purchaser.

Sale to commence at 1 o'clock of said day. Possession can be given to most of the farm on the day of sale, the balance about four weeks after.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, SATURDAY, August 2, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 140¼; Eighty-one bonds, 110¾; Five Twenties, 1862, 112; Five Twenties, 1864, 109½; Five Twenties, 1865, 109¾; Consols, 108¾; Seven Thirties, 107⅝@107¾; Ten Forties, 102. Stocks—Erie Railroad, 75¾; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 95; Chicago and Rock Island, 102; Chicago and Northwestern, 48¾; Chicago and Northwestern preferred, 71½; Fort Wayne Railroad, 106¾; Michigan Southern Railroad, 80¾; New York Central, 105¼; Reading, 106¾; Western Union Telegraph Company, 47¼. Mining shares—Corydon, 1,30; Quartz Hill, 2,10; Gregory, 6,95; Smith & Parmalee, 6,10; Quicksilver, 34½.

Gold was firm during the day at 139¾@140, but closed strong at 3 p. m. at 140¾. Cash gold is scarcer, but time contracts can be made at considerable concessions; and, if it can be relied on the general impression of those who have the means of observing, the secret movement of trade the tendency should be downward. There was a sudden advance of Five Twenty bonds of 1862, 1866, and Ten Forties in sympathy with the advance of gold; these bonds had been below the price of other descriptions, and it was quite natural that they should be appreciated by parties wishing to invest at present rates.

The stock market is unsettled and rather lower on the speculative shares. A large amount of these stocks are carried one a small margin and higher interest, and holders are anxious to realize before they decline much. The present plethora of money makes it very easy to carry stocks, and strong houses get al they want on stocks at four per cent. per annum.

Mining shares firm, Corydon was down to 1,25, but is now rapidly picked up by the knowing ones at present prices; it is said that the stock is largely oversold—it might be dangerous to be short under such circumstances.

The attempt to influence the price of petroleum by exaggerated estimates and mis-statements seems not to be confined to the Pittsburgh market. It is a well-known fact that the price at New York about the beginning of last month advanced some twelve cents per gallon—that is, from twenty-one and a half to thirty-three cents per gallon. Notwithstanding these perfectly known facts, Reuter's telegrams from this country, published in the European papers, quote prices on the 6th ultimo, standard white at 24c; on the 8th ult., do. do. at 22c; on 10th ult., do. do. at 27½c; on 11th ult., do. do. at 27c—while on the 5th ultimo 31c was paid for standard white in Philadelphia. The Philadelphia Ledger, commenting on this matter, very appropriately remarks:

"Such reports are most extraordinary, and such entire ignorance of market values can scarcely be accounted for unless Mr. Reuter's agents work in the interest of some speculative parties who desire by false reports to influence the markets. We are informed by dealers that the rise during the month of July was aided largely by heavy speculative movements, with a view of effecting a "corner," and that these speculations will be continued, and favored by reports of an over-sold market for consumption, prices are likely to be maintained. The European market has followed ours, and a rise of seven francs a barrel has been obtained. The exports from this port alone, during the present month, are larger than for six months together of last year, and the stocks in Europe greater than ever before."

—Some of the writers upon National finances, says the New York Journal of Commerce, confound the effects of an expanded currency with the results of the National banking system, and attempt to hold the latter responsible for both. The National banks added largely to this expansion, but this might have taken place under any system. A vital objection to the new plan is that it brought into being a large number of new institutions, to be managed to a great extent by men who are unfamiliar with the science of banking, and who had every opportunity and inducement to violate sound principles in the conduct of their charge. But the recklessness, the extravagance, the waste and theft which have ruined thousands, in and out of these banks, came chiefly from the influence of the vicious currency, not necessarily connected with any system of National banking.

—The New York Times, referring to the recent bank failures, says:

Our sensational neighbor of the Herald, who is running a tilt against the National Banking system, is evidently hard up for material of opposition. He quotes this morning the failure of the Weedsport Bank of Western New York, which occurred two or three weeks ago, and which is not a National bank. He also makes a considerable noise over the Unadilla, now a National Bank of Schoharie county, in this State. The concern is of individual ownership, and was so as a New York Free Bank. The cheif owners are responsible Abany people, and we dare say there will be no loss to note holders and no ultimate loss to depositors, if the concern has really "gone up". The Pequonnock Bank, now National, of Bridgeport, Conn., is also cited by the Herald. Here there will be no loss to either note holders or depositors, and less than 25 per cent. under any probable circumstances to the stockholders of the bank. The National Bank Examiners, commissioned from Washington, were advised of the difficulty, and had charge of the concern before the bad conduct of the Cashier was made generally public.

Here, then, is one false start by our neighber, and two very lame examples of the "rottenness" or "downfall" of the National banking system out of nearly 1800 banks throughout the country, which have made uniform and equal to legal tenders the entire bank note circulation of the United States—superceding at the same time more than a score of different local State bank currencies, many of them of uncertain credit, and the whole subject to discount at the great centers of trade and commerce.

—The followed list embraces some of the suspensions and failures of national banks since January, 1867:

March 2—The National Bank of Newton, Mass., failed with liabilities of $110,000. March 2—The National Bank of Hudson, N. Y., discovered an embezzlement by the cashier to the amount of $50,000. The concern revived after a suspension of several weeks, and resumed business. March 4—First National Bank of Medina, Mo., failed with liabilities of $82,000. March 4—The Mechanics' National Bank of Baltimore, broke down from the effects of a series of defalcations, carried on for a long time by two officers of the institution. July 25—The Westport (Cayuga county) National Bank closed its doors, its liabilities being $125,000. July 26—The National Bank of Unadilla, Otsego county, failed, its liabilities being $200,000. July 27—The Pequonnock National Bank of Bridgeport, Conn., suspended business, and offered a reward of $500 for the fugitive cashier, W. Hamilton Barnum, who absconded with $60,000.

In the above brief statement the reasons for the difficulties of the national banks in question are too lamentably obvious to need further comment.

—A letter from Buenos Ayres says the wool clip this year will be 100,000,000 pounds, and that the recent rise in the tariff of the United States has produced great dismay among the wool-growers. But, fortunately, for some years great efforts have been made to refine the wools of that country, and in proportion, the finer wools pay less duty. No wools will go to the United States this year but those that are fine and clean. The shearing would begin this year October 1. The wool bids fair to be finer, cleaner, free from burrs, and of better color than ever before.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, August 2, 1867.

The general markets do not seem to improve much, and there are no indications apparent at present of any immediate improvement. It is true, there is a moderate local demand for most of the leading commodities, but, in the aggregate, the volume of business is light, and there is an almost total absence of anything like a speculative feeling. So far as regards values, there are no changes worthy of special mention, but generally speaking, the tendency is downward.

GRAIN—The arrivals of Wheat are increasing, but thus far the bulk of it is consigned to millers, and, as a consequence, we have but few sales to record. Prime Penna Red may be quoted at $2,15@2,20. Oats dull and drooping; we quote nominally at 75c, on track, and 80c, in store. Rye is quiet and nominal at $1,30@$1,35 for new and old. Corn is scarce and steady at 98@$1 for prime Yellow. No movement in Barley.

FLOUR—The market is quiet and dull, with a drooping tendency, though prices are without quotable change. Choice Spring Wheat brands may be quoted at $11,50@11,75. New Winter Wheat is selling at $11,75@12. Fancy brands range from $15@16. Rye Flour is scarce and in demand, but unchanged at $8,25.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet but steady, with regular jobbing sales at 13@13¼c for Shoulders; 15@16c for Ribbed and Clear Sides, and 21@21½c for Sugar Cured Hams. Lard is dull but firm at 13@13½c, and the same is true of Mess Pork at $25@25,50.

POTATOES—Continue exceedingly dull, with a supply largely in excess of the demand. We are cognizant of offers having been made to sell to-day at $2 per bbl.

GREEN APPLES—Are coming in more freely, but, as yet, the demand keeps up to the supply, and prices are pretty well maintained, ranging from $3@5 per barrel, according to quality.

EGGS—The arrivals continue very liberal for the season, and with a supply considerably in excess of the demand, prices have still further declined, and we now quote at 16@17c.

BUTTER—Is very quiet—indeed, it is seldom mentioned. We continue to quote nominally at 15@16 for prime fresh, in pails and firkins.

CHEESE—Is steady, with regular sales at 13@15c, according to quality.

HAY—Is quiet and unchanged; sales of new at scales at $16@20 per ton.

OIL—Lard Oil is steady at 85c for No. No. 2, and $1,05 for No. 1.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY, August 2, 1866.

CRUDE—The market was somewhat "panicky" to-day, and as holders were more anxious to sell, being a little apprehensive that a reaction might set in, if it had not already, and, as a consequence, the sales in the aggregate were larger than during any preceding day this week. Prices, as will be seen by reference to the sales, are lower. For example, sales were reported for first water at 10@10¼, while yesterday and the day before 11@11¼ was asked. It is but proper to remark, however, that late in the afternoon there were offers to buy first water at 10½ without finding sellers. Upon the whole, the market was in a very unsettled condition throughout the entire day, though on one point there can be no disputing, and that is, prices ruled lower. The sales were:

5000 bbls	all 1867, buyer's option	13
5000 "	first water	10¼
5000 "	after Sept. 1st, seller	10½
1500 "	first water	10
5000 "	deliverable at Oil City, buyer's option, until Jan. 1st, 1869	14¼

REFINED—The market for bonded oil was also panicky, unsettled and irregular to-day, and, as will be seen by reference to sales, there is quite a difference in prices. For instance, August is reported at 31c and 32c, and for the last four months at 32@33¼c—nothing done in spot oil. The sales were:

2000 bbls	500 each month from September to December, buyer	32c
500 "	August, buyer	32c
2000 "	500 each month, September to December, buyer	33c
4000 "	1000 each month, September to December, buyer	33¼c
1000 "	August, buyer	31c

PITTSBURGH METAL AND BLOOM MARKET—WEEKLY REVIEW.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, FRIDAY August 2, 1867.

There has again been a fair business done in Metal this week, unusually large, we might say, for this particular season of the year, and the market is strong, and the advance in all leading brands is well maintained. Mill owners continue to buy pretty freely, and there is also a good demand for desirable grades of Foundry irons; inferior descriptions, as has been the case for some time past, are dull and neglected, and in good supply. We have the following sales reported:

ANTHRACITE.

MINING SHARES.

Mining shares are generally steady. Gregory 680; Corydon 130; Gunnell 3,00; Sensendeafer 250; Benton 110; Midas 265; Smith & Parmlee 600; Rocky Mountains 175; La Crosse 80; Davidson 222.

SPECIE SHIPMENTS.

The shipments of specie to-morrow will be about one million dollars, and if the California bars get up from quarantine, nearly two millions.

SUB-TREASURY RECEIPTS.

Receipts in the Sub-Treasury were $2,290,061; payments $1,551,319; balance, $127,823,804.

Cincinnati Market.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, Aug. 2.—Flour quiet and unchanged; extra, $8@8,50, family $9,25@9,75; and fancy, $10,50@11. Wheat in light supply and better demand, and prices higher, closing at $1,95 for No. 1 red, and $2,20@2,25 for white, the latter rate for choice Kentucky, which is wanted by shippers. Corn unchanged and firm, at 80c for No. 1. Oats dull and prices lower and irregular, sales of new at 50@55c, and old at 65@70c. Rye dull and heavy, and the prices to a great extent are nominal, and it could have been bought at 90c at the close. Barley dull and nominally unchanged. Cotton dull, at 25@25½c for middling. Whisky unchanged and dull. Mess pork dull and prices nominal, at $23,50@23,75. Bulk meats held at 11¼@13¼c, but 200,000 pounds of shoulders were procured at 11c. RIVER NEWS.

The Great Republic arrived at Cairo on Wednesday, just exactly four days out from New Orleans. She done a large business below. On her arrival at Cairo she had a slim freight list, but a good passenger trip. The Ezra Porter left Cincinnati for New Orleans on Wednesday.

The first boat which was ever built entirely at Dubuque, had her trial trip several days ago. The papers speak of her as a very fine boat. She is called the Dexter, and cost $20,000.

The New Orleans Crescent, of Saturday, says: The business on the landing presented, in a degree, some activity, and considerable freight was on the move. The Great Republic arrived with an immense load about two o'clock, from St. Louis; and the discharging of the Continental, Yankee and barges and the Great Republic produced some stir on the upper wharf.

The steamboat business of Memphis, says the Bulletin, is now reduced to a very low ebb, but it is the general impression that lively times will be experienced in the fall. We shall have three or more packets in the White river trade, two in the St. Francis, two in the Vicksburg, four or more in the Arkansas, and already there are no less than half a dozen fine steamers for the Memphis and New Orleans trade. Besides these, there will be regular lines of St. Louis, Evansville, Louisville and Cincinnati packets, and numerous transient steamers. Steamboatmen are exultant at the prospect, and well they may be, for it is evident that we are almost on the eve of the most lively river transportation business that has been known for some years.

For the first time, it is said, some two weeks ago, a steamboat navigated up the waters of Black river, and landed at Poplar Bluffs, in Butler county, Mo.

The proposals advertised for by Gen. G. K. Warren, for removing obstructions from the Minnesota and Mississippi rivers, were opened on the 25th, at St. Paul. There was only one bid for furnishing the board with the steamboats required. Capt. A. B. Hopkins, of Cincinnati, Ohio, proposes to sell the steamer Lizzie Hopkins, six months old, cost $21,000, length 150 feet, hold 5 feet, trims on 23 inches, for $28,000.

LOUISVILLE, July 31.—River falling; 2 feet 3 inches in canal, and 15 inches down Indian chute. Boats are having some trouble on bars. Latest arrivals report the Nightingale hard aground at Flint Island; she had broken both guards trying to spar off, and was out of fuel. The Rob Roy gave her some coal, but she had not got off when the latter boat left. The Argonaut was aground 14 hours at Shawneetown, on her down trip, and the Tarascon 25 hours at Flint Island, on her last down trip, just opposite Smithland. The deepest water is at Dog Island, on the Illinois side, which cuts off Smithland. There are three feet on Portland bar. The Tarascon had to lighten over. The P. W. Strader has arrived from New Orleans, and Mary Erwin from Tennessee river.

ST. LOUIS, July 31.—The river is falling rapidly here. The Illinois and Missouri are still on a steady decline. The steamer Davenport found only four feet ten inches on the Lower Rapids, and falling pretty fast. Business fair, and is about to increase to large proportions. Every Northern Line packet will be actively employed in the Upper Mississippi trade by the middle of August. The increase elsewhere will be equally considerable. In the meantime, the boats now running seem, without exception, to have all they can do, but there is a great amount of tonnage still laid up. The Lady Grace and Big Horn have arrived from Benton. The steamer Gerard Allen, bound from Leavenworth to St. Louis, sunk last night near Jefferson City. She had a large quantity of freight. The boat is badly damaged; she is eight months old, was built here, and was owned by Messrs. Keiser. She was valued at $60,000, and insured for $40,000 in Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, New York and St. Louis offices.

The Cincinnati Gazette, of Thursday, says: Captain Rees will introduce the Ida Rees in the Portsmouth and Cincinnati trade during low water, leaving here every Monday, Wednesday and Friday. She leaves on her first trip on Friday next; Captain White in the office.

We extract the following items from the Cincinnati Commercial, of Thursday:

We regret to announce that Captain Geo. W. Cullum, of the Shamrock, is again confined to his residence by his afflicted limb, which has caused him so much suffering. The Ezra Porter and barge were loaded to over three feet. One item of her cargo consists of six barrels whisky. Thos. Trunnell and W. H. Attenborough are her pilots. The last arrivals only report thirty-one inches at Guyan, and three feet at Manchester. The Nicholas Longworth arrived at New Orleans on the 30th. The Magnolia and Argosy No. 1 (New Orleans packet) are undergoing repairs on the Marine ways. Captain Wm. H. Pierce, of this city, sailed from England for home, in the America, on the 28th of July. The veteran Captain David Hiner, after six years active service in the United States Navy, has resigned, and once more located among us. He was at the wheel with Captain John Sebastian, when he lost an arm on the United States gunboat, Tyler, while fighting the rebel ram, Arkansas. Capt. Hiner was also slightly wounded. We have heard Captain Hiner's name mentioned in connection with the office of United States Assessor, made vacant by the death of Colonel Langdon. The Havana has been chartered by the Mail Company. She left for Louisville last night in charge of Capt. Sam. Hildreth. We understand the Emma Floyd has been chartered by the same company.

GREAT REVOLUTION IN THE WINE TRADE OF THE UNITED STATES.—PURE CALIFORNIA CHAMPAGNE, made and prepared as if done in France, from pure California Wine, and taking the place of Imported Champagne.

The undersigned would call the attention of Wine Dealers and Hotel Keepers to the following letter, which may be a correct idea of the quality of their Wine:

"CONTINENTAL HOTEL, PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 15th, 1866.

"MESSRS. BOUCHER & CO.—Gentlemen: Having given your California Champagne a thorough test, we take pleasure in saying that it is the best American Wine we have ever used. We shall at once place it on our bill of fare. Yours truly J. E. KINGSLEY & CO."

Call and try our California Champagne.
